

COUNTRY & TOWN HOUSE

UPFRONT Style news

WORKING GIRL

Britt Lintner garnered mega column inches for dressing Sarah Brown during President Obama's recent visit and we know why – she pulls off, with consummate ease, workwear that is at once formal, but oh so stylish and just a bit sexy. She's just won the accolade of becoming a Walpole Brand of Tomorrow, as well as combining a full-time job with a hedge fund with being a mother. Superwoman? We'd say so. (020 7610 4070; brittLintner.com)

STRIPEASE

Gorgeous lingerie is the perfect antidote to the credit crunch. Afterwear nightie, £170. (apartment-c.com)

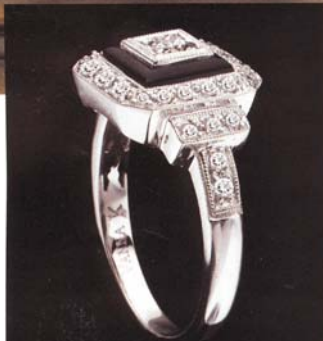

FLY BY NIGHT

Queene & Belle is for winter cashmere, right? Wrong. Don't fly without gorgeous cashmere cover ups, silk camisoles and dresses. Available from Matches, Liberty and Harvey Nichols. (queeneandbelle.com)

HERE AND THERE

Style savvy for the girl about country and town. By Lydia Gard

DIAMONDS AREN'T FOREVER

Got a red carpet event, but no jewels to dazzle with? Brilliant new website rentyourrocks.com allows you to hire Oscar-style glamour at a fraction of the price. Another perfect credit crunch solution. (rentyourrocks.com)

FLIGHT OF FANCY

Inflight spritz? New Prada travel spray for men. 3x10ml, £38. (020 7494 6220)

BEAUTY AND THE BEACH

Don't miss Bahamas designer Lady Genie Nuttall's fabulous collection at Harrods – it's the last word in beachwear this summer. Teresa Greek eye dress, right, £925. (020 7893 8013; jeannie.mcqueeny.com)

EDITOR'S CHOICE
TOD'S CULT G BAG
NOW COMES IN WHITE
CROC. MMMM,
£15,000. (TODS.COM)

